Guerrillas kidnap US envoy

CORDOBA, Argentina (UPI) — Leftist guerrillas today kidnapped Alfred (Tony) U.S. Embassy branch public affairs officer in this central Argentine city, police announced. Police said they believed Laun tried to fight off his abductors and was wounded before being dragged into one of two cars with eight armed men and one woman.

Nixon, Gromyko discuss trip

Newsman asks judge replacement

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Reporter William Farr Thursday asked Superior Court to disqualify Judge Charles H. Older from presiding at a hearing on a contempt charge the judge leveled against him. Farr's attorney said Older was prejudiced and could not give him a fair and impartial trial. Farr was found in contempt for refusing to disclose the source of a story written during the Manson murder trial. He served 30 days in jail but was released pending appeal.

Steel agreement said near

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Industry and union negotiators have reached a tentative contract settlement covering 350,000 basic steel industry workers, management officials said today. The Basic Steel Industry Conference, comprised of presidents of some 800 locals of the United Steelworkers union (USW), met to decide whether to approve the agreement worked out by their negotiators with management, bargainers representing the 10 largest steel firms. Terms of the settlement were not immediately disclosed.

McClure votes against bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. James McClure, R-Idaho, was among Republicans voting against the campaign financing reform bill, which passed the U.S. Senate 53-32 Thursday.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, was among 13 Senators who were listed as absent or not voting. There were 17 Democrats and 18 Republicans voting for the bill with 9 Democrats and 23 Republicans against it (UPI, p. 6).

Some Japanese strikers return

TOKYO (UPI) — Half of Japan's 6.5 million striking workers returned to their jobs today, but the nation's crippled economy received a new blow with the announcement that 100,000 mechanical workers would strike next Tuesday.

Black mayor endorses Wallace

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — Gov. George Wallace Thursday received his first endorsement from a major black political leader in his bid for re-election. Tuskegee Mayor Johnny Ford said he believes Wallace has "changed" since his "segregation forever" inaugural address in 1962. "It is clear he only used the racial issue as a tool to gain power," Ford said.

Third Gaullist enters race

PARIS (UPI) — Communications Minister Jean Royer Thursday night became the third Gaullist candidate in France's presidential race, further weakening the divided conservative opposition to leftist Francois Mitterrand.

Royer, champion of France's 11 million shopkeepers, joined the campaigning for the May 5 presidential election promising a "policy of change."

REP. WILLIAM LANTING

Gem House speaker retiring

HOLLISTER — Idaho Speaker of the House William Lanting said he will not seek re-election this fall. Lanting has served 10 years in the Idaho Legislature and has been speaker of the House since June, 1967. For four years prior to that he was majority leader in the House.

Lanting said he is leaving the legislature to devote full time to his farming and ranching in the Hollister area and "at this time" has no other plans for the future.

He said the decision to leave the legislative post was made after much deliberation on his part and discussion with the precinct committee people of his legislative district.

Lanting will retain his speaker position until early December when the legislature meets for organizational sessions. As to his successor, Lanting said there are a number of representatives interested.

Lanting also said a number of Twin Falls County Republicans have indicated an interest in seeking his spot on the ballot in August.

He said he has heard several rumors but believes the interested candidates should make their own announcements.

Nixon schedules reply to House after Easter

(C) Chicago Daily News
WASHINGTON — President Nixon is going to tell the House Judiciary Committee by April 23 whether he will comply with its historic subpoena asking for tapes of 42 Watergate-related conversations involving him and former aides.

The President sent word his response would be "comprehensive and conclusive" but did not say if he would turn over all material demanded by the House impeachment investigators.

The lopsided 33-2 vote to issue the subpoena, with 12 Republicans joining 21 Democrats, apparently took Nixon and his White House aides by surprise.

The subpoena—the fifth to be served on the President by the special prosecutor or Congressional committees since the Watergate scandal broke—was handed to White House lawyer James D. St. Clair Thursday afternoon.

The subpoena—order to provide six tapes voluntarily failed to avert the issuance of the subpoena, which demands a response from Nixon by April 25.

"It's too late to make a deal," said Rep. Peter W. Rodino, D-N.J., rejecting St. Clair's proposal. The second-ranking Republican on the panel, Rep. Robert McClory, R-Ill., said he was "completely frustrated" in trying to get voluntary compliance from the White House.

White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said the additional material that would be furnished by the end of Congress' Easter recess should enable the committee to exonerate the President in short order.

The House committee, however, intends to hear an outline of evidence starting May 7. That may take 10 days or more. A vote on whether to impeach the President is expected in committee by early June and, if the panel decides to place formal charges against Nixon, a House vote may occur in late June or early July.

If Nixon refuses to provide material listed in the subpoena, he may be held in contempt of Congress. That could be regarded as an impeachable offense by the House.

Nixon has complied with two subpoenas issued by the special Watergate prosecutor's office and successfully resisted two others served on him by the Senate Watergate committee.

The House Judiciary Committee acted after its counsel reported little progress in obtaining tapes of 42 conversations that were first requested Feb. 25.

The material is essential, according to committee counsel John Doar, to test whether the President was or was not involved in obstruction of justice in the White House coverage of the Watergate "busting" of Democratic headquarters.

At least some of the conversations demanded in the subpoena may not have been taped. Testimony in federal court indicated that one of the taping machines used for recording Nixon's meetings in his executive office building went out of tape on the afternoon of April 15, 1973.

At least three conversations listed in the subpoena occurred after the time of the alleged tape mishap, the document shows.

The controversy over the subpoena focuses on meetings in mid-April, 1973, when the Watergate cover-up was becoming unsteady.

The issue before the judiciary committee is whether Nixon, who was told about hush money payments to Watergate defendants on March 21, took part in an effort to conceal crimes by his aides.

District judge orders libel charges dropped

By ED MITCHELL
Times News Writer
BURLEY — Criminal libel charges against the South Idaho Press and John Eberline, the newspaper's editor, have been dropped.

An order was signed Thursday by Fifth District Judge Sherman Bellwood to drop the criminal libel charges which had been brought by the state on the behalf of Magistrate Judge Gleason Anderson March 29. Judge Anderson signed a statement asking that the charges be dropped.

Judge Anderson had signed a complaint charging libel because of an item in a weekly question-and-answer column in the South Idaho Press which dealt with the removal of magistrate judges using Anderson's name as an example. Eberline was arrested on the charge two days after the article appeared and was released on his own recognizance following a not guilty plea.

Cusseta County Pros. Gordon Nielson had sought to remove himself from the case and have a special prosecutor appointed, State Atty. Gen. Anthony Park refused Nielson's request to appoint another prosecutor. No decision had been made on the appointment of another prosecutor before the case was dropped.

Nielson requested in a written statement to Judge Bellwood that the charges be dropped "in the best interest of justice."

Bellwood said this morning that he still felt there had been no basis for the libel charge in the item cited in the complaint. He said there had been no concessions discussed between the newspaper's attorneys and the judge or the prosecuting attorneys.

Judge Anderson said he asked that the charges be dropped because he also felt it was in the best interests of justice in the community. "I think the community deserves my attention," he said. He said the community would suffer by continuing the court battle between two parties, both "with their backs up."

Crucifixion re-enacted

JERUSALEM (UPI) — About 3,000 Christian pilgrims chanting prayers and singing hymns wound through the old city's narrow Via Dolorosa today, reenacting the crucifixion of Jesus Christ almost 2,000 years ago.

The pilgrims, many of them carrying wooden crosses on their shoulders, stopped at each of the 14 stations along the way where tradition says Christ stopped on his way to Mount Calvary. They sang and prayed in English, French, Arabic and Greek as they moved toward the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, locus of the Good Friday and Easter Sunday services.

As it happens every four years, the western and eastern Christian churches observed Good Friday on the same day. The eastern churches, including Greek and Armenian Orthodox and Egyptian Coptic, follow a different calendar and usually celebrate Holy Week services on different dates.

Hansen shuts off late baths

HANSEN — Beginning Sunday, Hansen residents won't have water out of their faucets after 11 p.m.

The nighttime water cutoff is expected to last until a new well and water system can be completed later this year.

Mayor Harold Miller said the pump on the old well which is still supplying the city will be turned off from 11 p.m. to 6 a.m. in an effort to build up the water table. The water level is diminishing and the well is pumping air.

The city has an arid climate and the water table can be built up when the pump is turned off at night. The pump has been operating constantly.

Most of the new lines will be six inches in diameter, while the old pipes are four and two inches. Not all the old lines will be replaced, but lines will be looped and tied into the larger, new pipes, he said.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger today ruled out any change this year of reaching a final agreement with the Soviet Union on the arms control talks.

Unimpressed by the Soviet Union's offer to resume talks, Kissinger said a White House spokesman was more optimistic.

Kissinger was asked about the outlook for a permanent agreement in "Strategic Arms Limitation Talks" (SALT) following a two-day working breakfast with Egyptian Foreign Minister Ismail Fahmy.

"We will not have a permanent agreement until we have a final agreement," Kissinger said. "We are in the process of discussing it and we have to prepare some proposals for the response to the Soviet proposals and then we will know."

Later, at the White House, Kissinger's Western deputy, presidential press secretary, expressed hope for further progress on a new nuclear agreement.

Warren said that based on earlier talks with Soviet officials, "there is agreement" between the United States and Soviet officials on the disarmament meeting.

Warren stressed his comments did not relate to the talks being held between President Nixon and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, Kissinger also attended those talks.

We are hopeful that there will be progress in the SALT negotiations," Warren said. "That is something that has been referred to as from the summit meetings the President and the Secretary have had with Soviet officials."

Principal resigns, cites 'frustration'

Times News Writer
KIMBERLY — The principal of the Kimberly-High School said Thursday he resigned because of an "overbalance of frustration."

Frank Senfield, whose resignation was accepted by the school board, said the frustration results from "a breakdown in communication" between the administration and the students.

He said he felt the reason for his resignation after one year had been "glossed over" in the report of Monday night's trustee meeting.

Senfield said he had become frustrated because the superintendent (Linton Hugg) concerns himself with many things such as attendance, student races, parents who come to the school to inquire about their child and the trivial day to day running of the school which is really the principal's responsibility.

Weed proposes release plan

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The fiancée of Patricia Hearst proposed Thursday night that the "Symbionese Liberation Army" be allowed to fly her to a foreign country and there negotiate her release.

"I would like to see them demand a plane out of the country, take some money with them, and set up a line of communication in some other country," said Steven Weed in an interview on KQED, a San Francisco television station.

He said he had been working on the plan for several weeks, but he did not spell out the details. The FBI acknowledged last week the Hearst family was considering such a plan.

Weed also said Miss Hearst "is being set up in some cruel way."

The SLA, if not planning to kill her, "intends to keep her planning to get her in a situation with the FBI where she might get killed."

Miss Hearst said in a tape recorded message yesterday April 11 that she was joining the underground terrorist group.

Weed said he was "suspicious" and "stunned."

"This whole thing is a cruel hoax being played on her," the blond, mustachioed graduate student said. "Either she's dead or will be soon."

Weed, 26, is a philosophy student at the University of California in Berkeley, where he and Miss Hearst lived before she was abducted Feb. 4.

Charles Bates, the FBI agent in charge of the investigation, said the escape proposal had been discussed "quite a bit, actually," by the Hearst family. "But I can't say too much about it right now because it's not really our decision. The SLA has to decide how they want to get out of this. All we can do is try to cover the possibilities."

Bates said he would not rule out the possibility Miss Hearst would be released in a foreign country.

Miss Hearst's parents, Randolph A. Hearst, president and editor of the San Francisco Examiner, and his wife Catherine, were resting at Las Cruces, south of La Paz, Mexico.

Streaker rides hobby horse

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI) — The Yo, Oldie Meal Shoppe was streaked Thursday by a young man with a sense of the appropriate.

The nude man entered the store astride a hobby-horse, looked over the meat, and galloped off.

The shoppe called only horse meat.

"It was reported that one of the witnesses remarked, 'as the nude streaker disappeared into the sunset: "Who was that unmasked man; why?"'

Expert data eyed in court-martial

ST. LEAVENWORTH, Kan. (UPI) — The Army was expected to call several psychiatric experts today in the second court-martial of Sgt. 1st Class Melvin Smith to refute defense testimony he was insane at the time a top sergeant was shot and killed in Vietnam.

The defense rested its case Thursday after several psychiatrists and psychologists presented opinions that Smith was not mentally responsible when he was charged with the mission of killing 1st Sgt. Archie Gordon.

Wrecker assists

Black man faces robbery charges

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI) — Curtis Florey, 35, black, and blind from birth, was being held by a stranger who later beat and robbed him of all his money — $2 in change — his bracelet watch, coat and keys.

Lorenzo Long Jr., 23, also black, but not blind, is on trial charged with the crime.

Florey testified that he could identify his assailant by his voice, by the texture of his skin and by "a distinctive odor."

He said the stranger first approached him early in January in a restaurant, the stranger said nothing that time, but Florey detected the person's odor.

He next "saw" this person on Jan. 13, Florey said that on the 15th, the person met him while he was crossing a street, the stranger accompanied him across the street, promising to protect him from dogs in the neighborhood.

Florey said that as they walked towards his home, his new companion boasted about his strength, and had Florey return his wallet.

As they approached his house, the man began asking for money. He let Florey feel his jacket to see there was no money in it and how ragged it was.

When Florey refused to part with his few coins, he testified the man punched him in the head and stomach, snatched his keys, bracelet watch and money.

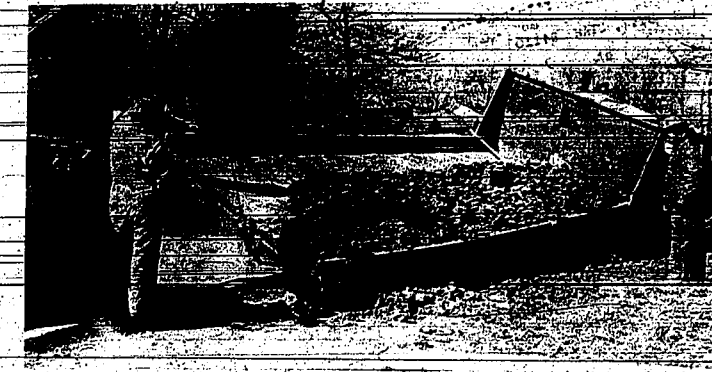

Florey said he grappled with his assailant, running his hands over the attacker's body, because I wanted to know every detail about him.

He testified that he could tell from touch that the attacker was a black man because of the skin texture. He knew he was young because he had thin muscles. He said he could recognize the assailant's distinctive odor.

In court he identified Long as the man who had robbed him. He said he had been asked to identify the defendant to speak, and when he did Florey said, "That's his voice."

When asked how he could delineate a man's distinctive odor, Florey replied, "It's like you describing cologne to me."

The trial is expected to continue today.

NOTHING was hurt but our pride, according to Jerry Horsley, employee of the Twin Falls Sanitation Department, after this city truck broke through a thin layer of concrete over the Eighth Avenue lateral Thursday noon. The right rear wheel dropped into the dry lateral, which runs parallel to the street and had to be rescued by a towing service wrecker. The city crews were cleaning out a feeder ditch along Eighth Avenue, Horsley said.

Subpoena queried by House aides

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House impeachment investigators have told the House Judiciary Committee that "realistically, there is no way to enforce a subpoena for presidential documents," a member of the committee said today.

Rep. Barbara Jordan, D-Tex., expressed hope that President Nixon would comply with a subpoena for tape recordings and other materials relating to 41 conversations last year between the President and some top aides. Otherwise, she said, his refusal could be included in a bill of impeachment.

Mrs. Jordan said that after the committee's 33-3 vote Thursday to subpoena the materials, the staff investigators submitted a report to the committee on the outlook for gaining compliance.

"There is one sentence that is very telling," she said. "Realistically there is no way for the Judiciary Committee or the Congress of the United States to enforce its subpoena. And realistically, that is the case."

"We are not going to have the spectre of the sergeant-at-arms or the doorkeeper or the security counsel — to the committee going to the White House and trying to seize the President."

"I don't think we will tie this matter up in the courts because that would be inordinate delay."

"We are coming from this, hopefully, the President's compliance. If he does not, I can see a discussion among members of the committee as to whether the refusal of the President to comply with a subpoena issued by the committee should in fact be included in a bill of impeachment."

Sewer line may test new TF zoning law

BY DAVID HOBBSMAN
Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — A "test by fire" already is shaping up for the new Twin Falls County zoning ordinance after its adoption.

A sewer trunk line — a magnet to subdivision developers — will be extended to the Twin Falls Municipal Airport next year.

The line will cross land reserved for agricultural uses under the current draft of the county zoning law.

City project will be extended about two miles along Airport Road from the Low Line Canal to the airport.

City engineer George Michael said the line would eliminate problems with septic tank sewage disposal at the airport. "Our main concern is the airport," Michael said.

The growth adjacent to the sewer line with it would be up to the county to administer agricultural zoning along the new line.

Estimated cost of the project is about $13,000, according to Michael. It should be completed in the spring of 1975.

Federal and state agencies will pay 90 per cent of the project.

Michael said the city had considered building a "small treatment plant" at the airport rather than extending the sewer line. But with maintenance and eventual replacement of the treatment facility figures in the cost of 15th projects would be about the same, he said.

The sewer line will be good

Also, finding a stream to dump the treatment plant's effluent would be a hassle. The High Line Canal is the closest waterway, according to Michael. Canal officials and the Environmental Protection Agency probably would frown on its use as a "receiving stream."

Bubble bath ingredients present hazard

By GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Would you say something about the danger of using bubble bath when bathing young children? My 10-year-old daughter developed urinary tract infection, and the first question the doctor asked my daughter was if she had been using bubble bath for the last few months.

She said, yes, and the doctor seemed surprised she was not aware of the danger for little children, especially girls. The preparation was a widely advertised one. Mrs. L. F.

The possibility has been discussed more than once in this column, but evidently your daughter didn't see it. It's not a case of combining bubble baths altogether. There is, however, something for parents to be aware of.

Some ingredients in some bubble baths can be irritating to the delicate membranes of a youngster's external genitalia, and the irritation may, in certain circumstances, invite infection.

With a particular child and a particular product there may be no irritation, or it may be obvious immediately, in which case the danger is self-evident. If, however, or it may develop, afterward, to which case you can suspect that rinsing was inadequate.

So, if genital or urinary irritation appears, and you are using bubble bath, that's a reasonable warning to stop. Anyway, bubble bath adds nothing to the cleansing powers of the bath water.

The risk is greater in little girls because the urethra is shorter (the urethra being the duct leading from the bladder).

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I want to find out more about spastic colitis. What causes it and is there any help? — J.P.

Exacerbation of the current fighting between Israel and Syria in the Golan Heights.

For the remainder of this month at least Israel cannot be expected to make any significant concessions towards achieving a disengagement of forces on the Syrian front.

If the nation's politicians take Mrs. Meir's advice and call for new elections, voting could not take place until August at the earliest.

In the interim, the incumbent cabinet headed by Mrs. Meir would stay on in caretaker status. But as such, its negotiating leeway would be severely limited.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have been told that a crack in a person's tongue is an indication of lack of vitamin B. Is this true? What foods are a good source of vitamin B? — M.M.P.

That may be one cause of such cracking, but the deficiency has to be extreme and seldom if ever appears in person eating a reasonably balanced diet. B vitamins occur in cereals, nuts, many vegetables and meats. Hence it is more likely that some irritative factor, rather than lack of vitamin B, is causing the trouble — irritation from dental material, excessive smoking, or an allergic reaction to something.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Reader questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

ERA drive hits snag

(C) Washington Star-News
WASHINGTON — The Equal Rights Amendment, five states short of ratification, is unlikely to win the approval of more in 1974.

The last real hope of advocates of the controversial women's rights measure was Florida. Wednesday, the Florida Senate killed the amendment.

The vote was 21-19. Afterwards the speaker of the Florida House said that body will not even consider the amendment this year. Florida Gov. Reuben Askew had endorsed the amendment, urging the legislature to approve it. But neither Askew nor his representatives lobbied actively to gain passage. Supporters of the amendment focused on four states — Maine, Montana, Ohio and Florida — this year, and the amendment was approved in all but Florida.

Senate passes campaign reform bill

(c) N. Y. Times Service
WASHINGTON—After 13 days of debate and 51 rollcall votes, the Senate passed a sweeping campaign reform bill Thursday.
It would use taxpayers' money instead of large private contributions to pay for presidential and Congressional election campaigns starting in 1976.
The bill, which passed 53 to 32, was the most far-reaching election legislation adopted by either house of Congress since the disclosures by the Watergate investigations of past campaign abuses.
But as the senators hurried from the senate chamber to begin their Easter recess, there were predictions the measure would never become law.
The bill now goes to the House where many representatives oppose the idea of using public funds to finance their challenges. In addition, President Nixon has denounced public financing of campaigns as "a raid on the public treasury" and is expected to veto any such bill reaching his desk.

One of its final major actions before passing the bill, the senate voted 68 to 25 to make the personal income tax returns of all members of Congress and all officials and employees of the legislative, executive and judicial branches earning more than $20,000 a year subject to annual audits by the General Accounting Office, the auditing arm of Congress.
The audits would be similar to that conducted on Nixon's income tax returns by the staff of the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation, and the sponsor of the proposal, Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., said the audits would be available to the public.

The question posed in this amendment is simple, Tower said: "Will Congress vote to bring upon its members the same intensive audit that President Nixon underwent?"
It was considered doubtful that such an amendment would survive in the House or in a Senate-House conference.
However, organizations which have been lobbying for public funding of elections, such as Common Cause and the Center for Public Financing of Elections, hailed passage of the bill as a major victory and called on the house leaders to enact campaign reform legislation this year.

Jury finds Boyle guilty of murders

quick verdict

(c) N. Y. Times Service
MEDIA, Pa. — W. A. (Tony) Boyle, the deposed president of the United Mine Workers of America, was found guilty Thursday of three charges of first-degree murder in the slayings of Joseph A. Yablonski.
In the Yablonski shooting on the night of Dec. 30-31, 1965, the victim's wife, Margaret, and daughter, Charlotte, also were slain by gunfire that the jury here said had been paid by UMW money authorized by Boyle.
The jury of nine men and three women deliberated about four hours before finding Boyle, 72, guilty of the maximum charge sought by the special state prosecutor in all of the Yablonski murder trials, Richard A. Sprague.

Boyle, who began last December serving a separate three-year federal prison term for the illegal use of UMW funds in the 1966 elections, could receive three consecutive life sentences for the murder convictions.
Boyle's lawyer, Charles F. Moses, was given permission to make motions for a new trial within seven days, the first step toward an appeal.
The verdict was announced in the hushed and nearly empty courtroom at 5:25 p.m. by Clyde Parrish, the jury foreman.
The court clerk read each of the three murder charges, and after each Parrish answered: "Guilty, in the first degree."

Boyle, seated between his defense counsel and surrounded by his guard of three United States marshals and two Delaware County deputy sheriffs, shook his head as if in disbelief. He was then led quickly from the courtroom, walking with his head down.
Yablonski was a 50-year-old former UMW board member who unexpectedly, in 1965, launched an outsize union election challenge to Boyle's 10-year rule as the $50,000-a-year coal miners' president.
On opposite sides of the courtroom as the verdict was announced sat the reformer's sons, Kenneth and Joseph Yablonski, with two of the victim's brothers, Leon and Edward, Yablonski, and Boyle's wife, Ethel, his daughter, Yablonski, and his brother, R. J. Boyle.

TOKYO (UPI) — Fourteen Japanese seamen were feared dead in the collision of their 28-ton fishing boat with a Liberian freighter, 70 miles south of Osaka in western Japan today.

The Maritime Safety Agency (MSA) said only three of the 17 crewmen aboard the fishing boat No. 11 Shoheimaru were picked up by a passing ferry after the collision.

Ellsberg breakin trial set

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A federal judge has set June 17 — five years to the day after the 1972 Watergate burglary — for the beginning of the conspiracy trial of John D. Ellsberg and five others involved in the Ellsberg break-in.
U.S. District Court Judge Gerhard A. Gesel Thursday said in a brief order, the trial date may be changed pending motions by some defendants for separate trials.

Charged in the case with Ellsberg, President Nixon's former domestic affairs adviser, are Charles Colson, former Special White House Counsel; convicted Watergate burglar G. Gordon Liddy; and three Cuban Americans, Felipe DeDiego, Bernard L. Barker and Eugenio Martinez.
The indictment charges they conspired to violate the civil liberties of Dr. Lewis J. Fielding, the Beverly Hills psychiatrist who once treated Dr. Daniel Ellsberg, Ellsberg was the man who made public the Pentagon Papers on Vietnam.

The defendants are charged in the White House "plumbers" operation to break into Fielding's office to obtain Ellsberg's psychiatric records.

Brezhnev raps 'halfway' bid

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet Communist party leader Leonid Brezhnev has criticized Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger for going only halfway in trying to settle the Middle East conflict.
Brezhnev said Thursday night a Syrian-Israeli troop pullback agreed should be one of an overall Middle East peace pact worked out in Geneva, rather than a partial settlement negotiated by Kissinger in Washington.

"The danger lies in the fact that against the background of certain decrease of tensions, the aggressor and its patrons may try again to avoid a radical, all-encompassing solution of the problem," he said.
Speaking at a dinner for Syrian President Hafez Assad, he criticized Kissinger's peace moves as "ersatz plans" and said the secretary preferred replacing an overall settlement with partial agreements of a different kind.

Brezhnev, 67, did not mention Kissinger by name but, in little doubt of his meaning, he also failed to mention the Syrian delegation now in Washington for troop separation talks with the secretary of state.
He said Russia and Syria agreed "completely" that any troop withdrawal pact with Israel should be part of an overall Middle East peace accord negotiated at Geneva.
"A durable and just settlement can and must be worked for in its framework," the Soviet leader said.

Spiro gives papers

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (UPI) — Six hundred boxes of former Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's official papers are now in the University of Maryland library, but they are neither tax deductible nor open to the public.
The university said Thursday that Agnew donated the documents on condition the remain unopened until January 1977, when his second term would have ended.
Agnew resigned last October after pleading no contest to a charge of income tax evasion.
The papers, from Agnew's five years as vice president, two years as governor of Maryland and four years as Baltimore County executive, were delivered to the library

Wednesday after Agnew closed his official office near the White House.
It was not known why Agnew designated the state university as repository for the documents. He did not attend the school.

Fuel rules satisfy

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho's director of energy believes the proposed new regulations for allocation of fuel supplies should be workable as long as flexibility is retained for individual states to operate.

Director Richard Brown told Thursday the energy problems are far from over, even in Idaho.

"We're going to have a problem for a long time to come," he said.

Brown said there are only a few things he disagrees with in the proposed regulations which he said were based on the lessons learned through application of the regulations during the past few months.

The proposed rules include a recommendation by Brown to set up a priority rating for retail dealers who serve priority customers such as small farmers.

Brown said the priority classification for the retailers is needed to protect consumers in communities where agricultural customers come first at the pumps.

Brown is also recommending that changes be made in the proposed 117-word definition of a "truck" because he feels the definition is confusing and it leaves out the vehicles used by small family farmers.

The new rules also would have cut trout farmers under the agriculture definition. Brown said he plans to find out if a priority rating would be justified for the trout farming industry and to recommend that the federal regulations include the industry.

Brown said the definition of a truck as a vehicle with a gross weight of 20,000 pounds would discriminate against those persons "who haul" daily products, livestock, grain, fruit and vegetables to the processor or market.

Timber sale cut

OGDEN, Utah (UPI) — The Intermountain Region of the U.S. Forest Service is cutting its timber sale by 30 million board feet, because of a federal court order.

Vern Hamre, regional forester, said Thursday the reduction in planned cuts on national forests in Utah, Nevada, southern Idaho, western Wyoming and a small portion of eastern California will affect the timber sales for the January-June period of 1974.

Hamre said the reduction in the timber harvest follows an order by Judge Joseph C. Waddy, U.S. District Court for Washington D.C.

Last year the service had planned to increase cuts on the nation's forest lands by 1 billion board feet. The National Resources Defense Council and the Sierra Club filed suit to halt the expanded cut and Waddy ruled in favor of the two environmental groups.

24 persons injured

THE FIRST car of a two-car Chicago Transit Authority train hangs over the edge of the famous "Loop" structure in downtown Chicago Thursday after it failed to make a turn and derailed. Twenty-four persons were injured in the accident which jammed home-bound rush hour traffic on the city's main transit line.

Missile test launches favored

GRANGEVILLE, Idaho (UPI) — Many people in this area favor the test firings of Minuteman missiles next winter, according to George R. Kinney, a local businessman.

Kinney, addressing a public hearing attended by about 225 persons here Wednesday night, said he was speaking on behalf of many people in the area who favored the test launches.

The Air Force has announced plans to test fire Minuteman missiles from their sites at Malstrom Air Force Base near Great Falls, Mont. The missiles will travel over Central Idaho and Oregon on their way to the Pacific Ocean.

The Air Force held public hearings here and at Lawton to explain the firings to area residents since parts of the missiles, the first stage and four protective boosters for the second stage, will fall on uninhabited areas of north central Idaho.

Kinney said the advantages of the firings outweighed the disadvantages.

"Public support should rest on one question, on the benefits versus the money it will cost, not on the danger to our lives and property because that is remote," he said.

"Buying national security is not a tangible like buying oats and barley but it is a concrete, tangible item."

The country must have not just a possibility but a certainty that we can protect our national interests," he said.

He said the $2 million he spent on this project was "small price to pay, a real bargain."

Donald E. Vedy, a member of a team from Strategic Air Command Headquarters, Omaha, Neb., who conducted the hearing, said the tests were needed to gather information about overland flights not available in flight over water.

Veteran funds up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vietnam veterans' benefit payments have been boosted by $750 million under a special supplemental appropriation bill signed by President Nixon Thursday.

The White House said the regular supplemental appropriations bill now pending in the House was not expected to be enacted in time to make veterans' payments required by law.

The VA has been under fire for "delay" in issuing benefit checks to veterans going to school after the GI bill.

AIM issues challenge to LDS

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — The American Indian Movement, attempting to force a confrontation with the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, has demanded that the church recall all its missionaries from Indian reservations and return lands and properties owned by the religious group to reservations to native Americans.

AIM National Field Coordinator Vernon Bellecourt and Dave Hill, Utah state director for AIM, issued the challenge to LDS church officials Thursday in a news conference at the This-is-the-Place Monument near the spot where Mormon President Brigham Young told his followers in 1847 they had traveled far enough.

Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I'm 21, considered attractive with a good personality. My problem is rather embarrassing, but I think there is something wrong with me.

When I meet a guy I like, right away I get sexually involved with him. In fact, going to bed with him is the only thing on my mind.

Naturally, my life is going to turn anything down, but my sexual involvement never seems to accomplish what I hope it will. The longest a guy has ever gone with me is two months. They all give me a big rush at first and then they quit calling. Is it possible they get tired of sex?

I know I'm too forward, but I just can't help it. I don't think I'm a nymphomane because I don't get all that much out of sex. Could I be oversexed?

Relationship doesn't last

How can I keep from falling head over heels in love with guys I barely know? I can't seem to help myself. I'm always getting hurt.

Do I have a problem? And how do I solve it? PUSHOVER

DEAR PUSHOVER: You have a problem, and you can solve it by getting to know yourself and understanding why you behave as you do. You're insecure and searching for a lasting relationship, and you believe that the way to keep a guy coming back is by giving him sex. Wrong! Obviously, a good therapist is the answer. Ask your family doctor to recommend one. Or call your Family Service Association.

DEAR ABBY: My mother and I stopped at a gasoline station. She told the attendant she wanted 42 worth of gas and she held up two fingers.

The attendant left, and for some reason another man came out and put the gas in my mother's tank. He said: "That will be 42."

My mother said she asked for only 42 worth so the second man said: "Look, lady, what's another dollar? Besides with this gas shortage, you're lucky."

My mother said all she had was 42, but she lived only a few blocks away [which was true] so she would go home and get another dollar.

My mother didn't have any more money at home—so she never went back because what could she have given him? What should she have done? WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: She should have told the man she would bring him the dollar as soon as she had it. And then she should have kept her word.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are both dieting. We were invited to spend the weekend with some close relatives of mine. When I accepted, I expressly asked my aunt to please keep the food simple, and not to bake because we were dieting. She agreed.

When we got there she had pumpkin bread, fudge brownies, cheesecake and all the things we love and couldn't resist.

Because we're good friends, I spoke up and said I wished she hadn't done all that, especially since I had asked her not to. It caused hurt feelings.

Now the family says that it's up to the dieters to resist temptation because others should not have to go without. We say when houseguests ask the hostess not to serve high calorie foods she should comply. What do you think? CALORIE COUNTER

DEAR COUNTER: Your aunt agreed to comply with your wishes, and she broke her promise. Shame on auntie. If she felt you were being unfair to the other guests by requesting she limit her menu to low-calorie food, she should have said so.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, Box 9970, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

GOODING — Melody Squares will hold a square dance from 7:30 to 11:30 p.m. Saturday in the Gooding Elementary School Auditorium. Myron Bliss is the caller. Those attending are asked to bring sandwiches or dessert.

TWIN FALLS — The Twin

Falls American Legion Auxiliary will have a regular meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Big Boy Restaurant.

TWIN FALLS — The Singles Club will have a dance this Saturday night at the Odd Fellows Hall, Twin Falls. There will be live music starting at 8:30 p.m. Single persons and guests are welcome.

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — A girl wearing high-heeled shoes and a wristwatch sauntered around the U.S. embassy in the Palermo district of Buenos Aires Wednesday. The girl, who appeared to be a traffic jam, attracted a crowd and caused a traffic jam. The girl paid no attention to passing motorists who jammed on their brakes and brought a massive tie-up. When someone accosted her, witnesses quoted her as replying: "I'm not bothering you, so don't bother me." Witnesses said the incident ended when a police patrol car took the woman away amid a boos of the crowd.

The Admiral looked over the dummy and counted 11 winners. The 12 would come if hearts broke or if a squeeze could be developed. He played the four of spades from dummy and East discarded a diamond. West had all seven spades, so it was most unlikely that hearts would break. It was up to the Admiral to prepare for a squeeze. There was no reason not to reconceive with the club suit so the Admiral ran off the four club tricks while discarding the dummy's diamonds. West followed to three clubs. The intelligence operation had accounted for 10 of West's cards.

Two rounds of hearts came next. West failed to notice that he was marked with exactly two diamonds. This meant that East had started with five hearts and five diamonds. How could he be squeezed?

The Admiral worked it out quickly. A submarine attack was in order and he promptly led a low spade and ducked in dummy.

West won and led a spade back. East had already discarded twice on spades and once on clubs. A fourth discard would give the Admiral three diamond tricks or four heart tricks and East had to surrender to an overwhelming naval force.

Public land oil lease regulations revised

(C) New York Times Service
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Federal regulations governing oil leasing of public lands are about to be revised to increase the share of petroleum royalties retained by the government, Congressional sources said Thursday.

Additional revisions being drawn up by the Interior Department also would increase the leasing of federal oil properties for smaller petroleum companies by banning the practice of joint bidding ventures entered into by major oil corporations, the sources said.

The Interior Department oversees the leasing of such properties that include vast areas of oil shale in the Rocky Mountain area and the outer continental shelf, an enormous offshore area equal in size to one-third of the country.

According to estimates by the U. S.

Geological Survey, there are more than one billion barrels of oil in the offshore area and at least 200 million barrels could be tapped economically.

Sources here said the Interior Department reportedly would insist on joint royalties for subsurface, the so-called "bonus" bidding system, with a royalty bidding practice.

This would mean companies trying to obtain a lease on federal property would offer a fixed bonus bid against each other on the share of the oil that the government would retain. The company producing the oil eventually buys the government's share of the crude and the money goes to the federal treasury. Over the last 20 years the federal government has realized over $1 billion from its oil royalties.

Arabs kill 18

Israelis blame dead on Lebanon

United Press International
Israelis gathered to bury their dead beneath the brush-covered hills of the United States and angrily blamed neighboring Lebanon for the Arab guerrilla killing of 18 men, women and children at the town of Kiryat Shmona.

The Lebanese government said it knew that its citizens who are aiding the terrorists responsible for the massacre. Israeli Prime Minister Golda Meir said.

Lebanese Premier Takiyeddin Sif, leaving retaliation, met in Beirut with envoys of the United States, Soviet Union, China, France and Britain to warn of "aggressive intentions" by Israel.

A Lebanese guerrilla squad, which Israel said came from Lebanon, ran through two apartment buildings in the northern Galilee town of Kiryat Shmona, murdering residents who answered knocks on their doors.

Three townsmen, five women, eight children and two soldiers were slain by bazooka, machine-gun and grenade fire. Sixteen others, Israelis were wounded.

The guerrillas died in a blast of explosives after holding off Israeli troops for 4 1/2 hours from a fourth floor apartment.

In the town of 18,000 persons a mile-and-a-half from the Lebanese border.

A "small" commando group calling itself the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine General Command said it staged the raid in a bid to free 100 guerrillas from Israeli custody.

Israeli Ambassador Yosef Tekoa lodged a formal protest at the United Nations, calling the "attack" a "barbaric atrocity."

U.N. Secretary General Kurt Waldheim said he "deeply deplores the tragic incident" and said such attacks could undermine Middle East peace efforts.

On the northern Israeli front lines, Syrian and Israeli troops exchanged artillery and tank fire Thursday along the Golan Heights. For the 31st consecutive day.

Churchill's car listed

ARLINGTON, Tex. (UPI) — Sir Winston Churchill's 1954 Humber-Pullman seven-passenger limousine will be among 40 unique cars on the auction block May 26 at the Wings and Wheels Over Texas museum.

The auction will be conducted by Christie's of London.

Import car test 'better'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The rotary engine Mazda, which came out of earlier government tests looking like a gas hog, has emerged from a new test looking a little better, but still no fuel economy bargain, according to the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

In general, the agency said Thursday, the Japanese figure requires about 50 per cent more gasoline to travel a given distance on the highway or in town than piston-powered cars weighing about the same.

But the EPA added that the Mazda was a "hot car to drive" and "ahead of its time in meeting clean air rules.

Mazda said the new study proves what it has been saying all along — that Mazda drivers can expect to average 17 to 18 miles per gallon in all-around driving use.

In any case, the new figures give Mazda something better to talk about than the previous study, in which two Mazda coupes and one station wagon got only 10.6, 10.7 and 10.8 miles per gallon respectively. In the new test, in which perfectly tuned cars were used, two Mazda models got 13.4 and 13.3 m.p.g. under city driving conditions. On the highway test they got 21.2 and 19.0 m.p.g.

Oil embargo may end

THE HAGUE (UPI) — Premier Joop den Uyl says there are mounting signs of progress towards the lifting of the Arab oil embargo against Holland.

He told newsmen Thursday that "the climate blowing warps us from the oil producing countries is becoming milder."

He said he based his assessment on statements by Arab oil ministers.

There is no trace of a cancer against Holland," the Dutch leader said.

Mercury's interior may be Earth-like

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The spectacular close-up pictures flashed back by Mariner 10 strongly suggest Mercury may be a massive, Earth-like iron core, hidden beneath a heavily cratered crust resembling the moon.

That is a key, though still preliminary, conclusion reached by Dr. Bruce C. Murray, head of the team of scientists responsible for analyzing the televised results of Mariner's flight past Mercury March 29.

"Like the moon, on the outside but it may well be like the Earth on the inside," the California Institute of Technology geologist told the American Geophysical Union Thursday.

"For that reason, it's a unique object in the solar system."

He said the most surprising features seen so far in the photographs: made of about half the plagues — some large crater basins filled with what appeared to be lava, as on the moon. These apparent volcanic outpourings indicate Mercury has an iron-rich core.

Murray said the lavas mean the upper portions of Mercury must be made of silicate-rich rocks, like those on the moon.

If this is so, it means Mercury underwent a considerable melting early in its history, with heavier materials sinking to the center of the planet and lighter silicates rising to the surface.

This is believed to be how the vast highlands of the moon were formed. Mercury, however, is far more dense than the moon, and Murray said this means the planet must have a huge, heavy iron-rich core.

It is not known if Mercury's assumed core is molten like that of the Earth, but Mariner 10 also found that the planet has a magnetic field around it and the dynamic action of a molten core and a rotating planet could generate magnetism.

Bequm Aga Khan has new baby

PARIS (UPI) — The Begum Aga Khan, wife of Aga Khan III, gave birth Wednesday in Geneva to their third child, the Aga Khan's secretary in Paris said today.

She said the child, a boy named Hussain, and mother were in fine health.

The Aga Khan, a multimillionaire, is the spiritual leader of 22-million Ismaili Muslims in Africa and Asia.

Jaworski to prosecute tax cases

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Special Watergate Prosecutor Leon Jaworski has the authority to prosecute tax cases related to the Watergate scandal, Attorney General William B. Saxbe has confirmed.

Included in that authority, Saxbe said Thursday, is the right to prosecute in connection with the preparation of President Nixon's income tax returns.

Saxbe's predecessor, J. Edgar Hoover, asked him for clarification of the authority in a letter and was assured it extended to prosecution of tax cases.

Saxbe was asked if that meant Jaworski could investigate the preparation of the Nixon claim of a deduction of $276,000 for his vice presidential papers he donated to the government. "I think that is basically what he asked," Saxbe said.

Saxbe emphasized he does not know of Jaworski's specific intentions, but he said Jaworski, during previous weeks, had sought clearance to look into the tax returns of "12 or 15 individual Watergate defendants."

If you have an eye for real value, you'll see the Jaworski Act. (UPI)

US will clear Suez

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "Small" helicopter chine sweepers to help clear the Suez Canal of mines laid since the 1967 Arab-Israeli war are on their way from the United States to Egypt, the Pentagon has announced.

The eight helicopters, flown by the 15th Helicopter Squadron, will be based aboard the USS Two (LST-1162), a helicopter assault ship that frequently cruises the Mediterranean carrying a Marine landing force.

The Arab states have complained often over the years that such Marine landing teams were a threat to them and have alleged in periods of crisis that the United States was planning to use them for amphibious assaults.

The Pentagon has said the actual minesweeping operation will begin within two weeks and take at least a few months. The Pentagon announced Thursday night it had received final presidential approval to proceed with the minesweeping in the Suez Canal and to give the Egyptian training and technical advice so they can remove unexploded shells from both sides of the canal.

The minesweeping task force, involving about 400 Navy men, will be commanded by Rear Adm. Brian McCauley. Last year McCauley led the task force that cleared the waters off North Vietnam of American-laid mines.

Confessants line up for deaf priest

LIMA, Peru (UPI) — A Roman Catholic priest complained on a television program that a colleague in the city of Arequipa has brought a new surge of popularity to the ritual of confession.

The Rev. Jose Maria Guerrero said in a seminar on the church ritual that he himself sometimes waited hours for someone to confess but that in Arequipa, confessants lined up for blocks waiting to tell all his priestly colleague, who was unidentified.

The difference, Guerrero said, is that his colleague is deaf.

Presbyterians plan Easter services

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls Presbyterian Church will hold two services in its Sanctuary this Easter Sunday.

The first service will begin at 9 a.m. and the second at 11 a.m. Mrs. Jeanne Deiermann Hatchford will be the soloist at both services and will be singing "In the End of the Sabbath" by Oley Speaks.

The choir will also perform at both services. The congregational singing will be accompanied by trumpets.

Rev. Robert Van Nott will speak on "The Wonder of Easter."

Catholic bishop, six priests flee in Africa

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (UPI) — A Roman Catholic bishop and six white missionary priests have fled the Mozambique town of Nampula after residents demonstrated against them and demanded their expulsion.

Nampula church spokesmen said Thursday. The churchmen said Bishop Dom Manuel Vieira Pinto and six priests — five Italians and one Portuguese — left Nampula

Wednesday aboard a chartered aircraft — for an as yet secret destination. Nampula residents demonstrated in the town Wednesday, smashing shop windows and accusing Bishop Pinto of "high treason," church sources said.

The demonstrations followed publication of a church manifesto asserting that "angelic work" could not be performed in Mozambique until after independence from Portugal.

Town residents also accused the churchmen of supporting the guerrilla cause in Mozambique, the church sources said.

Gooding cantata slated

GOODING — A cantata, "The Glory of Easter" by John Peterson, will be presented by a community choir at 8 p.m. Sunday at the United Methodist Church.

The cantata will be directed by Mrs. Edson Gilmore, with Mrs. Clark Scarsas pianist and Mrs. Donald Simis, organist.

Rev. James Radford, Assembly of God pastor, will be narrator. Soloists include Harvey Wood, Mark Shaw, J. E. Thompson, Patricia Lucke, Mrs. Donald Carrio and Rev. and Mrs. Harold Hale.

The public is invited to the event which is sponsored by the Gooding Ministerial Association. The 25-member volunteer choir represents most of the churches in Gooding, according to Rev. Edson Gilmore, Methodist pastor and president of the ministerial association.

Brenda and Cheryl Blades will sing a duet "Nobody Cared" during the evening. A fellowship hour will be held in the church basement after the cantata.

CHURCHES

Easter services set at Shoshone Falls

TWIN FALLS — The good news of Easter will be served at 11 a.m. Sunday at Shoshone Falls.

The service is sponsored by the First Christian Church youth department and will include singing led by Dan Sweet, scripture readings by Brian Wagner, and Mary Lynn Jones and a short message delivered by Dan Pyle, associate minister.

Minnie Sweet will be organist.

Refreshments and a fellowship hour will be held in the church after the service.

The public is invited to the service.

The service will conclude with the Easter sunrise service at 10:30 a.m.

The service will be held in the church basement after the cantata.

A combined Easter church school program and worship service will be held at 10:30 a.m. Sunday at the Valley Presbyterian Church in Hagerman. Mrs. W. W. Pressey and Mrs. Ed Louder will play organ and piano at the service.

Cantata set at Shoshone

SHOSHONE — Easter services at the Shoshone Assembly of God Church will feature several special events. At the 10 a.m. Sunday school, a gift will be presented to the person who has brought the most new ones to Sunday school. This is part of a contest that has been held at the church.

Easter musical numbers, readings and the message of Pastor Wesley Johnson will be featured at the 11 a.m. worship services Sunday.

The youth choir under direction of Mrs. Melvin Hoyer will present the cantata "The Greatest Gift" at 8 p.m. Sunday. There will be solos and duets in addition to the choir numbers.

The public is invited to any of these services. — Rev. Johnson said.

Jerome meeting house underway

JEROME — Work by Miller Construction Co., Twin Falls, continues on the new half million dollar LDS First and Second Ward meeting house. The new structure is located on three acres of land between East Avenue E and C. The area will also include parking and landscaping.

The church has purchased six acres of land in the area. The remaining three acres will be sold in 100 foot lots for residential construction.

When the church first announced it was going to build the new edifice they requested that East Avenue C be closed as it would run through the church parking lot. At that time the church had only purchased about three acres.

Residents objected to the closure of C Street and the Jerome City Council refused to grant permission to the church for the closure.

In September of 1973, Ross Lee, co-chairman of the building committee, said that six acres between East Avenue B and C were purchased as the site of the new structure. "The streets will be extended to the east edge of the church property at the total expense of the church, as will sewer and water facilities," Lee had said.

The new meeting house is expected to be completed this spring. The LDS general fund out of Salt Lake City provided 70 per cent of the total cost with the remaining 30 per cent raised by local wards.

Hailey Lutherans make preparations

HAILEY — Special preparations have been made to celebrate the Easter Festival in spoken word and music at the Lutheran Church at 10 a.m. Sunday.

All classes of the church school will sing their group of Easter carols. A trio composed of Mrs. Joe MacCarrillo, Carolyn Larson and their mother, Mrs. Larson, Blackfoot, will provide a number.

A vocal solo by John Palmer is also scheduled.

Pastor Loessel expressed appreciation for the fine work being done by the group of teenagers in preparing the Easter skit, "The Meaning of Easter."

Pastor Loessel will deliver the Easter message, "Who Could Ever Roll Aside That Huge Stone?"

An invitation is extended to everyone in the community to enjoy these services, said Loessel.

CHURCHES

Special Easter service planned by Shoshone LDS

SHOSHONE — The Junior Sunday school and adult Sunday school will meet together on Easter Sunday at the LDS Church in Shoshone. A special Easter service will be presented.

Don Stimpson, superintendent of the Sunday school, said there will be recitations, musical numbers and speakers. There will be no Sunday school classes that day, but the service will begin at 10:30 a.m. the usual Sunday school hour.

Mrs. V. F. Perron, junior Sunday school coordinator, is in charge of the assignments and direction of children participating.

Episcopalian women clean Shoshone church

SHOSHONE — Members of the Women's League spent their meeting time Friday cleaning the church in preparation for Easter.

A short business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Keith Anderson, president.

Hesitesses at the luncheon were Mrs. H. H. Hubbard and Mrs. Don Hubbard.

On May 3 the women will meet at 10:30 a.m. at the Jennings house where they will prepare for a rummage sale to be held on May 4.

This will be the last regular meeting until fall.

Utah firm bids low on Malta LDS Church

MALTA — A Logan, Utah, firm has submitted the apparent low bid for a new LDS Church at Malta.

Watts Construction Co. submitted a bid of $646,000 for the structure which is expected to begin with a groundbreaking ceremony April 16.

Derry Street of Richardson and Richardson architectural firm, Salt Lake City, said the building will have 15,000 square feet, including 24 teaching stations, a cultural hall and a chapel which can seat 348 persons.

The building will be constructed north of the existing church and construction is expected to take one year.

Other bids on the project included Newberg Construction Co., Twin Falls, $677,400, and Lothrop and Sons, Decatur, $698,720.

TF Way Station promises program

TWIN FALLS — Tracy Hansen, Way Station director, announced a program Friday and Saturday night at the new Christian youth center will feature a Jerome musician.

He said Randy Davis, young guitarist and vocalist who has toured Europe and several states, will perform both Friday and Saturday nights. Doors open at 7:30 p.m. and refreshments will be served.

Hansen said speaker for the two evening programs will be Ted Fields, also Jerome, a young man with an enthusiastic religious message for other young people.

The Way Station is a new center for young people interested in modern religion and is located in the old N Club one half mile west of Magic Valley Memorial Hospital, and about a quarter of a mile north.

Hansen said a sign has been erected to direct interested persons to the building.

Hansen also reminded residents of the April 20 concert featuring Barry McGuire, well known gospel singer. This will be held in the Christian Center, 181 Morrison St., south of Addison Avenue West near the Robinson Family Drive-In.

Pope Paul performs ceremony

ROME (UPI) — Pope Paul VI, showing slight signs of physical weakness, washed the feet of 12 young poor victims in a Holy Thursday Mass that recalled Christ's gesture in the Annulet at the Last Supper.

The 79-year-old Pope, who was bedridden twice with influenza last month and suffers from chronic arthritis, faltered once during the procession down the main aisle of the basilica of St. John Lateran and again while mounting the steps to the altar.

Observers at the mass said, but he spoke in a firm voice and moved with apparent ease during the mass itself, the observer said.

The pontiff withdrew from two of the five Holy Week rites Wednesday on advice of doctors.

TF bid opening dates scheduled

TWIN FALLS — Construction bid opening dates for school building projects were set Tuesday by District 411 trustees.

First on the list is the April 29 bid date for the rebuilding of Bickel School. Specifications for the project will be ready by Tuesday, according to Ed Peterson, CFA Architects.

May 21 was chosen as the opening date for bids on the demolition of the Lincoln School building.

Bid opening date for project 1, involving remodeling and additions to Harrison, Morningside, Lincoln and Robert Stuart schools was set for May 29. Peterson said that plans and specifications would be ready for that week.

Peterson said that the bids are being put out as individual and lump sum bids so that small contractors can have a chance at the projects. He said he estimated completion time of the projects to be about 18 months.

The first major project, Harrison, is scheduled to start sometime next January. The Lincoln project would probably be completed sometime in spring, he said.

Demolition of the old Lincoln school will be under a separate contract. The trustees decided so that the school could be torn down in summer when no children were present.

A tentative bid date for project 11, the construction of a new elementary school, was mentioned as July 1.

Peterson requested general board approval for exploration of the use of bright colors and graphics in the new and remodeled schools. "There's no reason we have to have schools with seafoam green walls," he said.

The architect showed sketches of bright yellow, orange and red alphabet letters that could decorate walls, and colorful striped drapery material. The cost could be as little as $100,000, because a professional sign painter would be needed to complete the graphic designs, Peterson said.

But, Peterson said, the kids really enjoy the bright, light colors. He said he submitted his drawings to his own children for approval.

In other business the board set May 14 as the date for a public budget hearing. Budget figures should be ready for board approval April 29, according to Asst. Supt. Cauden Meyer.

Meyer reported that a salary meeting between teachers and the board was scheduled for Wednesday. He indicated that the budget was being figured on the presumption that all school personnel would receive the same percentage increase in salaries as the teachers. "There's not much controversy when you do it this way," he said.

The election date for school board trustees is May 21, Meyer said. Names and petitions of candidates must be filed by May 2.

The date of May 4 for the auctioning off of antiquated school property was made final. Board members were informed that, according to a new law, all school property must be appraised before it is sold. It is illegal for the school to sell the property at a price below the appraised value.

The appraisers are required, Meyer said, with the amount of property to be sold it may take them all one day, he added. Fees can run up to $25 an hour for appraising on the basis of time. He said he was hoping to find persons to donate time as appraisers.

Board members also discussed the fate of the Happy Day School building at Lincoln school.

Registration dates set

TWIN FALLS — Registration for children entering the first grade in Twin Falls schools next year is scheduled for April 18 and 19.

Any child who will be 6 years old on or before Oct. 15 is eligible to enter the first grade. Registration will be from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the school nearest the child's home. Enrollment may be made at any of the Twin Falls elementary schools: Bickel, Harrison, Lincoln, Morningside and Washington.

Parents should enroll their children by telephoning or visiting the school. School district officials said enrollment in the spring is necessary so that adequate rooms and teachers are provided when the new term opens in the fall.

MV garden clubs plan state meet

TWIN FALLS — Members of the Magic Valley district of the State Federation of Garden Clubs made plans for the state convention Wednesday.

Members of both the Jerome Leaf and Petal Club and the Twin Falls Garden Club met to discuss plans for the state convention of the Holiday Inn in Twin Falls on June 11, 12 and 13.

The Leaf and Petal Club reported that a review of floral arrangements and decorations was being held by the club for the benefit of new members. The club is currently making plans for a flower show to be held the last week in June.

Mrs. Kenneth J. Holder, president of the Twin Falls Garden Club, reported that the group plans to continue landscaping the grounds at the YM-YWCA where the swimming pool is completed. Presently, the group is supplying Rene Clark, Rupert grade school teacher, with containers for a fill-grader project. There are 100 to 200 plants to be planted.

The group has also undertaken landscaping for Harbor House in Twin Falls, Mrs. Holder reported.

An article on recycling was read at the district meeting by Mrs. Mark Knoll. It was reported that Gov. Cecil Andrus has declared April 25 as "Bird Day" in Idaho at the request of the state federation.

The fall district meeting has been set for Oct. 5 in Jerome.

Blaine canvasses bond vote

HALL EX — Blaine County School District aides have officially canvassed the poll and tally list of the recent school bond election.

A counting error of 10 votes slightly lowered the overall percentage to 85.1 per cent. Yes votes cast in the six polling areas.

A total of 2,541 votes were cast—2,236 yes and 305 no. Included in the bond issue was construction of a new Blaine County High School, plus building additions on Hemingway Elementary, Bellevue Elementary and Carey school.

Wood River Junior High is to be converted into an elementary school and a junior high complex will be constructed using part of the old high school.

Groundbreaking could occur as soon as September on the new high school, according to Ed Peterson, CFA Architects, who attended the meeting.

The target date for completion of the high school has been set for fall of 1976. Peterson said his firm could set designs and complete on-site surveys in about three months.

Bids could be let in August he said, and foundations would probably be the only phase of the project that could be initiated before winter weather stopped construction.

Peterson suggested two ways of letting bids: lone lump sum or bidding specific areas of construction.

"Prices will be sky high," Peterson said. Supt. Wayne Fagg said bonds would be sold as soon as possible but remained cautious of the fluctuating interest rate.

Asst. Supt. Ray Jefferson said the budget for the upcoming year should be completed soon, as far in advance of next year's starting date as possible.

Plans should be formulated now as teachers should have the chance to negotiate with the board, he said. The board will meet again Monday for a special working session on the budget.

Fagg said the district would receive two new 1975 bus chassis—the same bid-price instead of 1974 models.

The board also accepted the board decided to offer $750 per semester for teacher interns providing the board has discretion over placement in schools.

The board suggested approximately five interns could be used throughout each school in the county.

The board also accepted the resignations of Judith Gelskey and Virginia Heide. The board decided to table an appeal from Thomas E. Meagher for a year's leave of absence.

A "clerk of the work" was proposed to provide the district with security in building operations when the high school facility is begun.

The "clerk of the work" would be on the building site each morning, according to Fagg, supervising the school district's construction quality demands.

The "clerk of the work" would work with architects and building contractors to make sure materials are quality and workmanship good. The board suggested contacting several men in the area who might serve in the capacity.

The next regular board meeting will be at 4 p.m. in Bellevue Elementary School May 13.

TF women's group reviews club year

TWIN FALLS — A summary of the year's activities was given when members of the Unity Club met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Max Van Audsden.

Mrs. Beulah Sweet was co-hostess. The club collected and roll call was "hats of long ago."

In 1972 Kentucky rehabilitated 10,534 persons to employment and independence at an average cost of $1,430 per person.

The white elephant gift was won by Frieda Hoffman. Libby Schick told of her winter in Arizona and site excursions. Inez Boyd read Easter poems and "What Easter Is All About."

Guests were Mrs. Robert Van Audsden and son, Bob. The May meeting is a plant and bulb exchange at the home of Mrs. Carl Boyd, with Esther Noble as co-hostess.

Ketchum files suit

HALL EX — The City of Ketchum has filed suit against Steve Giacobi, Armet Corp. and Gene Lewis, LeWalt Construction Co.

The brief alleges the defendants submitted plans for a proposed addition to Atkinson's Market in Glasco. Square in Ketchum, then commenced construction on the same day without receiving a building permit.

The plaintiffs are seeking $10,000 in punitive damages.

Eden tank replacement eyed

EDEN — The old Eden water tower will soon be gone. The present storage tank, estimated at 50 years old, will be replaced by a new redwood tank which will have nearly twice the storage capacity.

Materials for the new tank will be available in about 30 days. Construction should begin around June 10. The new water project will be financed with local funds. The final cost of the project has not yet been determined because changes have been made in the original plans and the price of materials has risen since the original bids were submitted.

Candidacy announced

MALAD CITY, Idaho (UPI) — The minority leader of the Idaho Senate plans to announce formally April 25 that he will campaign for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor.

Senator John A. Evans, D-Malad, is a veteran legislator and has been mentioned as a possible candidate for other party offices.

Ray Rigby, a former Idaho senator, also has been mentioned as a possible contender for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor but he said Thursday that he does not want to be a problem to the party.

Rigby said he knew that Evans was interested as is former state Sen. Nels Solberg of Grangeville and added "I don't want to do anything to upset the party."

SV skier takes lead

HEAVENLY VALLEY, Calif. (UPI) — Mike Lund, the senior citizen of the hotdog ski circuit, grabbed the lead Thursday in the World Championship Freestyle skiing.

The 38-year-old Lund, Sun Valley, Idaho, won the musical stunt barrel race event in the freestyle figure skating.

He was followed by Donovan Phillips and Troy Caldwell both of Tahoe City, Calif.

Marion Post of Jiminy Peak, Mass., led the tour's leading woman money winner, Genia Fuller of Park City West, Utah; Penny Street, Sun Valley, was third.

Escapee returned

BOISE (UPI) — An escapee from the state mental health facility at Idaho State Penitentiary has been returned to Idaho from South Carolina and arraigned on charges of rape and kidnapping.

Michael Hightower, 24, was placed in Ada County Jail and bond set at $50,000, during an arraignment Thursday. A preliminary hearing was scheduled for April 25.

The charges stemmed from the alleged kidnap and rape of a Boise girl the same day Hightower escaped while at a mental health facility in Boise where he had been taken for treatment.

Seeks re-election

BOISE (UPI) — Marjorie Ruth Moonatoda announced she will seek re-election for a fourth term as state treasurer of Idaho.

Miss Moonatoda said if re-elected she will continue to seek additional ways to make more money for the taxpayers.

She said in the face of inflation, finding new ways of earning money or saving money for the people of the State of Idaho is the most exciting and challenging opportunity of the State Treasurer's Office.

Nampa man charged

NAMPA, Idaho (UPI) — A Boise man was arraigned in Canyon County court on a charge of voluntary manslaughter as a result of the stabbing death Wednesday night of Henry Swirezynski, 47, Boise.

Charges were filed against Everett Richard Sam, 32. He was returned to custody without bond pending a court appearance Monday.

Former Gooding man named

MISSOULA, Mont. (UPI) — Harold W. Flake, a Gooding, Idaho, native, has been named regional pesticides coordinator for the EPA.

Flake has been entomologist at the Albuquerque, N. M., regional US Forest Service Headquarters. In his new position he will be coordinator of the division of state and private forestry of the environmental services branch.

Good investment

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Sitting atop California's capitol 219 feet and 11 inches above the street, what could be the best investment the state ever made.

It is a gold-coated copper ball which adorns the very top of the historic building.

When it was set in place Oct. 30, 1871, it cost the state only $300 to coat the ball with ounces of the yellow metal.

William B. Clark, a state division of mines gold expert, said gold cost about $20 an ounce in 1871.

But today the gold is going for $170 an ounce, bringing the value of the 15 ounces to $2,550.

Special Easter rites set

SHOSHONE — The Methodist Church of Shoshone and Richfield will hold special Easter services, according to Rev. Nathan Ware.

The resurrection event will be celebrated at 8 a.m. on the eastern slope of Dietrich Butte.

A special worship service of song, prayer, scripture and the Easter message will be given.

Barber Dam threatened

BOISE (UPI) — Spring runoff is putting a strain on the 70-year-old Barber Dam on the Boise River east of Boise.

A spokesman for the State Department of Water Administration said there is a good chance the rock ball in the dam is being moved by the heavy spring flows. But he said there is too much water spilling over the dam to check.

For several years, water officials have expressed concern about structural damage to the dam and they have suggested it be removed or repaired.

Blaine accepts building

KETCHUM — E. V. McHan, state representative from Ketchum, said Blaine County now has the old Union-Pacific building.

He said he accepted it for the county from UP provided UP gives $50 to 100 feet all around the building.

Wood River Valley rail 'dream' eyed

by BART QUINN

Times-News writer
SUN VALLEY — The Wood River Valley Railroad Association reportedly must provide rail access if it intends to begin operation in Blaine County.

But if it loses that right of way to the Idaho Highway Department that will be the end of an excursion line dream, according to Brian Clark who is spearheading the proposed rail line push.

Speaking before the Ketchum-Sun Valley Chamber of Commerce Clark said he was told the Union Pacific and the department of highways had a "close working relationship."

Clark said it was likely the highway department would have first chance at the right of way.

The rail excursion proposal sets down three basic services:

1. Local commuter residents may ride for 25 cents from 7 a.m. to midnight.
2. A tourist excursion train complete with dining and bar cars.
3. "So people can have an experience consistent with what they are seeking in this area," Clark said.

Charles Morrow, who started a similar Washington-based rail excursion line, said the steam locomotive was a "must."

Morrow said "Maintenance on the tracks would be low."

"They don't rot so rapidly in this area as in other places," he said.

"Contrary to what anyone has said, that track is in good condition," Morrow continued.

Clark said at the present the steam locomotive would burn used crankcase oil.

Clark said it was cleaner than the "Bunker C" type and that a collection system was planned in Boise and Pocatello to pick up used crankcase oil.

"In Washington," Morrow told the chamber, "the oil companies pay the train to take the oil."

Chances for government funding for the proposed line are slim, Clark said.

Andrus is backing the system, he said, and is pushing a unified transportation system.

The group will ask for $125,000 beginning capital from the government with a two-year guarantee to be solvent.

Operating expenses for the first year are expected to run approximately $181,000 with beginning expenditures $126,000.

Hopefully, the group expects to receive $150,000 back in the first year, mostly from tourist excursions. They estimate 22,000 to 30,000 tourists will ride the rails for a gross of over $100,000 a year.

Lanting sets retirement

Lanting said he has appreciated the support given him by the residents of Twin Falls County and of district 21.

"I spoke of the House. I have had many opportunities and privileges some legislators have not had. I appreciate those opportunities," Lanting said.

He has served the past two terms as chairman of the National Council of State Governments. In this position he has visited every state except Alaska and Hawaii and last year attended a meeting of governors in Switzerland.

Lanting said he traveled more than 100,000 miles in connection with this position last year.

Lanting said there will be some important issues coming before future legislative sessions but most of the current ones were dealt with in the session just finished. One of the most demanding, he said, was the reorganization of state government.

Whether this was an important one, time will tell, Lanting said, but the lawmakers devoted much time and effort in an attempt to make it important.

Lanting said he plans to continue an active role in Republican Party matters in Twin Falls County but presently has no other future political plans.

Zone change approved

HAILEY — A 126-acre zone change was granted by the Wood River Recreation Association by the Blaine County Planning and Zoning Commission.

The change came after a request for the association by W. D. (Marty) Martindale on land located about three miles west of Hailey on Crook Creek road.

The reclassification to A-3 would allow the association to apply for a building permit. An A-3 zone restricts building.

Martindale said the association had plans to enlarge the present club building which included the need for electricity and a water source.

Martindale said a comprehensive plan had been prepared for the area and a decision to rezone by the commissioners could prevent a year's delay for a second request.

To secure matching funds from the Bureau of Recreation application had to be sent in by the middle of May, Martindale said.

The 126-acre area in the 126-acre request belongs to the Bureau of Land Management. Don Sweep, chief of resource management with the Bureau of Land Management said the agency had no objection to the zone change.

Suit names TF medicos

BOISE — A $110 million lawsuit has been filed in US District Court against several Twin Falls institutions, physicians and residents.

The suit, filed Monday by Sylvia P. Loving, Los Angeles, Calif., claims negligence, wrongful death and medical malpractice.

Named as defendants are the US Department of Health, Education and Welfare; the state of Idaho; Twin Falls and Canyon counties; Sky View Manor; Dr. Ralph Drake; Dr. Vaughn Pond; "Twin Falls" Memorial Hospital; Jessie "Argle" Loving; and Does one through 500.

The John Doe defendants are listed on that additional defendants may be added to the suit.

Miss Loving contends that her father, John Harris Loving, was placed illegally in the Sky View Manor. She claims he died as a result of inadequate health care, poor nutrition and improper medical attention.

TF police arrest 2

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls police Thursday arrested two men on charges of assault and battery.

Both arrests, although unrelated, took place within a few minutes of each other and both apparently stemmed from family disturbances.

Joseph W. Priddy, 27, was arrested about 11:45 a.m. Thursday and charged with assault and battery, disorderly conduct and resisting an officer. Priddy, described as a deaf-mute Eskimo with several degrees in karate, was taken to the county jail today in lieu of $150 bond on the three charges.

Sam Hieroth, 53, Twin Falls, was arrested on a charge of assault and battery about 11:30 Thursday, according to police booking sheets. Hieroth was released on $300 bond later in the day Thursday.

Police refused today to release the names of the assault victims involved in the criminal complaints.

Park site ceremony

FIRST dirt to be moved in a $125,000 project at Salmon Falls Recreation Site near Salmon Dam is scheduled for April 25.

Plans for the project were approved by William L. Chancey, Twin Falls County; Bill Matthews, state BLM director; and Lester McGregor, Salmon River Canal Co. from left.

The groundbreaking was part of a brief ceremony Wednesday at the park site.

Commuter passengers at 25 cents a trip plus an expected $35,000 in state funds for student travel will bring the total to the $150,000 mark.

The railroad group contends the program will cost a fraction of the cost of a new highway. Clark said the association would welcome a new two-lane highway as long as it did not encroach upon rail right of way.

"We think a good class A two-lane highway is vital up here," Clark said.

Zoning meet date nears

TWIN FALLS — A final public meeting to air the proposed new county zoning ordinance will probably be held in the coming week.

Twin Falls County Commission Chairman William L. Chancey said today he is attempting to work out a date with the College of Southern Idaho when the Fair Arts Auditorium will be available for a mass public meeting.

"We want the public to have a final chance to ask questions and discuss the ordinance before we adopt it. I'm still saying 'next week' for a final vote by our board on the ordinance," Chancey said.

The ordinance is now being prepared by zoning administrator Ed Woods and his staff, incorporating the latest revisions called for by the county commissioners and the zoning board.

Changes to the ordinance were adopted by the commissioners at its last meeting and will be available for a final public meeting.

Idaho flood threat gains

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho is assured of plenty of water this summer, but the soil conservation service says the heavy snowpack existing over most of the state may threaten many areas with potential flooding.

State survey supervisor Jack A. Wilson said that a combination of warm temperatures and rain or a chinook wind could cause flooding in several areas of the state.

Without those conditions, he added that the snowpack, that exists poses a definite potential for high volume runoff on many watersheds.

The snowpack ranges from a low of 89 per cent of normal on the fish creek drainage in the central Idaho to 164 per cent of average on the Palouse watershed in the northern panhandle, he said.

"The combination of precipitation and lower elevation snow-melt produced considerable run-off during March which would normally occur later in the spring," Wilson said. "A situation throughout the state was well above normal and classified as excessive for all major drainages."

Wilson said that soil moisture was "good to excellent."

The snow supervisor said the streamflow for major drainages vary from 106 per cent of normal for the Bruneau river to 185 per cent of average for the Big Wood river. He added that forecasts for smaller drainages vary from 18 per cent for Montpelier Creek to 170 per cent for Inflow to Oakley reservoir.

"Snowmelt during March generally was above normal at the higher elevations" throughout the state, Wilson said.

Noted that measurements taken during the first week of April established record snow-water equivalent values for 30 snow courses in northern and southwestern Idaho watersheds and on the Narys Fork and Teton drainages.

"The Lost Lake snow course on the Clearwater river measured 234 1/2 feet of snow with a record 30 inches of water," said Wilson. "On the Boise-Payette-Salmon drainages, records were established on the Big Creek summit, Deadwood summit, Trinity Mountain and Atlanta snow courses."

He said many other courses were near record levels.

Valley precipitation last month ranged to as high as 235 per cent of normal in the upper Snake River division, he said. Wilson said reservoir storage generally was average to above normal.

"Many reservoirs are being drafted to provide space for expected high flows during the snowmelt runoff period, he said.

"All major reservoirs are expected to be filled for the start of irrigation."

Farm safety law discussion extended

WASHINGTON — Public discussion on a proposed federal farm safety law has been extended two months.

The extension was made on the US Department of Labor's Occupational Safety and Health Administration's (OSHA) proposal to require guarding of farm field equipment, farmstead equipment and cotton mills to protect farm workers.

Discussion on the proposal, which was published Feb. 8, has been extended to June 10.

Comments should be mailed by that date to the OSHA office of Standards Development, US Department of Labor, 1225 M St., NW, Room 200, Washington, D.C. 20510.

US wheat crop in good shape

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The 1974 U.S. wheat crop, which administration officials predict will set a new record and help ease a worldwide grain supply, was in good condition in most areas April 1, the Agriculture Department says.

"Agriculture Department experts have 'projected' a potential total 1974 wheat crop of 81 billion bushels, up some 400 million bushels from last year."

"If the big harvest is realized, officials believe it will more than meet total domestic and export demand in the upper half of the year," the department says. "If the big harvest is realized, officials believe it will more than meet total domestic and export demand in the upper half of the year," the department says.

The department's crop reporting board, in a monthly crop report issued Wednesday, made no new specific estimate of the wheat harvest which will begin in May in Texas. But it said the crop "generally made good growth" during March, reflecting above normal temperatures early in the month and good moisture conditions.

The major exception was in Southwest Oklahoma and Northwest Texas where moisture has been short all season," the report said.

Overall, the report said that as of April 1, the crop was considered to be in good condition in most areas with adequate moisture and little damage from late March freezing temperatures.

Development of the crop was reported "near normal" and harvest was expected to start on about the usual dates, the crop board said.

In Kansas, the nation's leading wheat state, the condition of the crop improved during March with the help of widespread rains, the board added.

Earlier this year, buyers had been clamoring for government controls on wheat exports and voicing fears that unless exports were restricted, supplies might run out before the 1974 crop was harvested and bread might go as high as $1 a loaf.

Recently, however, wheat prices have declined from their record peaks of early 1974 and bakery spokesmen have withdrawn their forecasts of a price rise.

Shortages in the pre-harvest spring.

Embargo charged

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A top government spokesman Tuesday charged Canada's new order requiring hormone-free certificates on imported U.S. cattle and beef amounts to an embargo, but he said the move "should not have much effect" on the depressed U.S. beef market.

The diplomatically worded but blunt criticism of the Canadian action, which was announced Monday, came here from Assistant Agriculture Secretary Clayton Yeutter.

The official said he was "extremely disappointed" at the Canadian action.

Under the Canadian order, U.S. cattle or sheep intended for slaughter, and no beef lamb or mutton can be imported without a U.S. government certificate stating that producers of the animals did not use DES (Diethylstilbestrol).

Fluctuations part of farm market

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Assistant Agriculture Secretary Robert W. Long Tuesday said Americans had better learn to live with high food prices because farm subsidies are being phased out.

The administration's "belt-tightening" measures have failed and the public does not want sterner measures.

The alternatives are higher taxes, less federal spending, a tightening of credit and a possible reduction in the dollar, he said, and such actions "would probably be totally unacceptable to the Congress and the public generally." Long told a news conference.

"We have been following a tight money and conservative fiscal policy since the inception of this administration," he said. "That policy has failed to do the job."

"Maybe we just have to learn to live with inflation. There is some question as to how truly honest we are about strong public statements against inflation because it is our collective actions which induce it."

The economic goals should be relatively full employment, satisfactory economic growth and generally stable prices, he said.

"For economic theories, it's back to the drawing boards," he also said. American must face up to a future of food prices higher than those to which consumers are accustomed.

Addressing a Chamber of Commerce lunch, Long said that in the past prices had been held down by a government program favoring the consumer through payment of subsidies directly to farmers. The new policy, he said, is to keep on cotton-picking bands off the marketing of farm products.

But "it is completely sold on the basic principles of the marketplace," operating without government interference, he said.

Shop for money like you do machinery. Carefully.

You seldom buy the first piece of equipment you see. You study, literature. You ask questions. You visit several dealers. You're making a whopping investment — perhaps all the profits from an entire crop. And you just as selective when buying cattle or other livestock. Magic water flow cut to assure fill SHOSHONE — Water being dropped through the spillway at Magic Reservoir has been cut to one-half of normal to allow the reservoir to fill.

Leon Grive, manager of the Big Wood Canal Co. said the spillway will be completely filled by the end of the week.

The reservoir now contains a little more than 170,000 acre feet, indicating there is about a seven foot area to go to bring it to the full mark. When full the reservoir contains 191,500 acre feet of water.

Grive said there is no indication of concern over flooding from the reservoir at this time.

The snow on Pocatello has now melted, and the snow on the Snake River is melting slowly enough to cause no concern over flooding.

The cool nights in the upper unit has slowed down the snowmelt, Grive explained.

'Cattalo' rancher's objective

LA ROSSE, Kan. (UPI) — What do you get when you cross a pet buffalo with a Charolais cow?

A "Cattalo," says rancher Harrison Honderick. He has purchased Charolais cows for his 1,500-pound pet buffalo, "Charlie."

He plans to breed Charlie with the cows in June.

"Charlie's gentler, most days, than a wild buffalo and I can hand feed him," Honderick said. "Sometimes he'll follow me around, but I keep an eye on him every minute."

Sometimes he misjudges Charlie's mood and goes into the corral to feed him at a bad moment. When that happens, he tends off the beast with a feed bucket and his fist until he can get out.

He said the breeding idea was a new one.

"Actually, I bought Charlie just to play with," said Honderick, who raises wheat and cattle on his 640-acre Western Kansas spread.

Charlie peacefully shares a corral with two other bulls, an Angus and a Hereford. He will weigh close to a ton when full grown.

"Charlie's a lot more dangerous than the other two," Honderick said. "He's a wild animal, basically, and always will be although he's gentled down some."

Colbert leads Masters but Nicklaus is close at hand

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI)—The Masters leaders read more like who's that than who's who, but Jack Nicklaus is right where you'd expect him to be—close at hand.

The pace-setter, going into today's second round, is a dummy known as Jim Colbert who is relatively unknown despite having won three tournaments in nine years on the PGA Tour.

The three runners—Hubert Green, Hale Irwin and Don Iverson—are pretty much in the same boat. Green still has trouble getting people to spell his name correctly. Even though he won the Bob Hope Classic and the Jacksonville earlier this year, people kept mistaking him for Bert Green, also in this tournament.

Colbert, who has won less than $1,000 so far this year, closed strong in Thursday's opening round to post a 5-under-par 67, the first time he had broken par in three Masters appearances.

Green, Irwin and Iverson all had 68s, with Irwin getting his by running off a string of five straight birdies on the back nine of the sun-swept Augusta National course.

But all four had to persevere. Nicklaus, four-time champion and pre-tournament favorite, was only two strokes off the pace and that's because he missed a number of the sort of putts he usually flukes with ease.

"Early in the round, I wasn't aggressive enough with my putting," said Nicklaus. "I missed some pretty little putts. But, I would have been satisfied with my round if I hadn't bopped 18 where he missed a 12-footer."

Nicklaus made it clear he expects conditions to favor him over those ahead of him the next three days.

"If the greens speed up, as expected, it will favor the better, more experienced players," said Nicklaus. "I don't think that's all that much to be concerned about."

The 42-year-old Colbert had six birdies and only one bogey in Thursday's round.

The Twin Falls, Idaho, runner-away with another Hank Powers Invitational championship Thursday afternoon was 10 of the 19 events doing it.

The trumps scored 60 points while Burley, with Ken Harper, compiled for three victories.

Harper, who was followed by Wood River at 40, 31st, 32nd, and 33rd, which was to be the sixth team, did not compete.

The usual Magic Valley followed by Wood River at 40, 31st, 32nd, and 33rd, which was to be the sixth team, did not compete.

Miller failed at 13 and dropped back to third in his first non-winning effort of the season.

Tappen of Buhl showed an overpowering kick in the double to win that event and Buhl Junior, Bandy Krell had his best showing to date by making Harper come from behind in the 23-yard dash.

Harper, who was followed by Wood River at 40, 31st, 32nd, and 33rd, which was to be the sixth team, did not compete.

Lat Hendrix had his best showing in the high hurdles, perhaps a little trouble with over striding due to the pushing wind, and turned in a 15.1 final.

"Twin Falls won the relay events, which were expected to be good races when it was believed Jerome was in the game."

Jerome, who was followed by Wood River at 40, 31st, 32nd, and 33rd, which was to be the sixth team, did not compete.

Camas, Tigers take track wins

GOODING — The Camas County boys and Richfield girls took team victories in a Northside track meet at Gooding State Thursday.

Jerome's girls win own meet

JEROME — The Jerome girls backed seven first places with great depth Thursday afternoon to win their own invitational against three other teams.

With B. Thompson winning twice and placing second in another event, Jerome scored 25 points while Gooding had 49, Wendell 41 and Minico 36.

Probably the best performance of the meet was turned in by Miss Schenk of Minico who battled through a strong wind to post a 62.2 clocking in the quarter mile. She also won the hurdles.

McNee paces T.F. victory

POCATELLO — Medalist Bruce McNee turned the backside in even par Thursday to help the Twin Falls finish heart eastern division, SIC, golf teams at the Pocatello Country Club course.

McNee had a four-over 76 as Twin Falls scored 329, Highland 328, Pocatello 334, Idaho Falls 335, Skyline 361 and Minico 367.

Also scoring for Twin Falls were Bob Williams, 81, Kevin Packard, 82, and Gary Durbin, 83. For Minico were Allen Goodman, 79, Jerry Coll, 92, Steven Anton, 90, and Dale Hadden, 98.

The teams meet again in Idaho Falls' Pinecrest next week.

Lanier, Trapp shoot Pistons past Bulls

DETROIT — Lanier and George Trapp put on a fantastic fourth quarter shooting exhibition Thursday night, sparking the Detroit Pistons to a 92-88 victory over the Bulls to tie their playoff series at three games apiece.

A deciding seventh game will be played Saturday afternoon in Chicago. The winner of that nationally televised affair will advance to the semifinals of the National Basketball Association playoffs against the Milwaukee Bucks in Milwaukee next Tuesday night.

Lanier and Trapp combined for all but six of Detroit's 28 fourth quarter points.

The Pistons broke from a 4-1 deficit after three quarters to tie the game and held the advantage the rest of the way.

Dave Bing sealed it with two key throws with only three seconds left to put the Pistons four points up.

Stargell gets award

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Pittsburgh slugger Willie Stargell, spurned by sportswriters in the 1973 National League's Most Valuable Player voting Thursday was given a trophy "I can identify with," the Robert Clemente Award for exceptional service to baseball.

"As I have said before, I've never been able to tell what that award (MVP) is," Stargell said following the presentation by Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn. "This one I can identify with. I'm more impressed with rewarding things than with awarding things."

In presenting the trophy named for the Pittsburgh immortal who died in the 1970 crash of a plane delivering supplies to earthquake-shattered Nicaragua, Kuhn cited Stargell for both his athletic and social achievements.

In addition to leading the major leagues last year in home runs (44), runs batted in (131), doubles (43), slugging (.546) and game-winning hits (28).

Michelin costs less in the long run, the very long run.

ZX

The Michelin Z-X are made especially for imported cars. They're real money savers because they'll last. The Michelin Z-X can save you gas too. There's less road resistance. The wide wrap-around tread has over 15% more tread contact area than cross-ply tires — up to 4% more than standard radials. The Z-X is flexible and tough. A steel-cord belt gives you a smoother, safer, quieter ride.

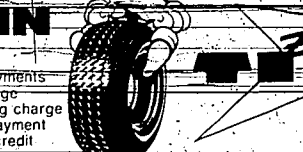

X

When you buy tires this time, think radial and look to the leader, Michelin. The Michelin X has steel-cord belted-radial construction. There's positive puncture and blow-out protection. Michelin radials save improved cornering, braking and traction in the wet. And they'll cost less in the long run because they'll last. They'll save you gas too. Michelin X. The radial leader.

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Public Utilities Commission today ordered that natural gas rates be set for the period from Nov. 14 to Dec. 31, 1974, should be set for hearing and subject to refund.

The PUC had authorized rate increases for the two utilities to offset the higher cost of gas from Canadian sources.

AEC awards contract

ATOMIC ENERGY COMMISSION said today that Morrison-Knudsen Co. of Boise was selected for negotiating a cost-plus fee contract to construct the river fuel processing facilities in Eastern Idaho.

The AEC said the facility will be used to process fuel elements from the reactor area at the National Reactor Testing Station west of Idaho Falls.

The PUC had determined that the rate increase for the period from Nov. 14 to Dec. 31, 1974, should be set for hearing and subject to refund.

The PUC had authorized rate increases for the two utilities to offset the higher cost of gas from Canadian sources.

Easter bunny's ears may be nipped

Twin Falls, Northside — per hour. High temperatures to 25 miles per hour. Low temperatures to 15 to 25 miles per hour. This is contributing to strong winds across all of southern Idaho. The storm will move eastward tonight and Saturday leaving this area with generally improving conditions. The intermediate region. This also is causing another deepening storm to develop in the Pacific Northwest.

Utilities on boosts

BOISE (UPI) — Additional hearings were scheduled by the Idaho Public Utilities Commission today to consider rate increases for electric utilities.

The hearings will involve a 12.8 percent increase being asked by the power companies and a 3.2 percent hike sought by Utah Power & Light.

Lumber exports, not logs, proposed

VANCOUVER, Wash. (UPI) — A report urging that timber exports from the Northwest be made up of more lumber and fewer logs is being studied by the forest industry and state agencies.

The report was prepared by Stanford Research Institute for the Pacific Northwest Regional Commission.

Rep. Lloyd Meeks, D-Wash., said the governors of Oregon, Washington and Idaho "who make up the commission" should make the two-volume document public.

The recommendations contained in the second volume of the report include banning of log exports from the forest service and other federal timberlands in the West and from timberlands managed by the Washington State Department of Natural Resources. The report recommends permitting continued export of logs from private timberlands.

Contract

BOISE (UPI) — A contract totaling approximately $10 million has been awarded by the Atomic Energy Commission to Morrison-Knudsen Co. of Boise to construct the river fuel processing facilities in Eastern Idaho.

The AEC said the facility will be used to process fuel elements from the reactor area at the National Reactor Testing Station west of Idaho Falls.

House approves futures regulation act, 281-43

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House of Representatives today passed the Commodity Futures Trading Commission Act (CFTCA) by a vote of 281-43.

The bill, which will now go to the Senate for consideration, creates a five-man commission with broad powers to regulate the activities of the nation's commodity exchanges.

The bill was passed by the house with no substantive amendments. An amendment by Rep. James T. Brophy, R-N.C., to place a four-year time limit on the act was approved.

Thursday's cattle futures end mixed

CHICAGO — Live and feeder cattle futures closed mixed Thursday.

Strong nearby and weak butchering were featured with moderate turnover in live cattle, with 9,482 contracts traded. Final quotes ranged from 40.00 to 40.50 in August.

Feeder cattle futures finished mixed with most contracts in the 30 to 40 cent range. Final quotes ranged from 30.00 to 30.50 in August.

Poultry income gains

ATHENS, Ga. (UPI) — Income from Georgia's poultry industry, one of the largest in the nation, increased 152 million last year over 1972, and would have risen higher except for increased feed costs, the state crop reporting service said.

Total income during 1973 was $640,397,000, the reporting service said Wednesday. More than half of the cash receipts came from broilers, $365 million. Income from broilers was up $151 million from the previous year.

Study units funded

TWIN FALLS — The Morningside PTA has raised $1,000 for new school equipment at a carnival, last month.

Proceeds from the March 15 carnival will be used to buy study curricula for the library planned as part of the Morningside School building addition.

Three portable units, each equipped with projection screens and headphones for four students, will be purchased. In the curricula, which are designed for flexibility, a student may use cassettes, tapes, records or filmstrips.

Morningside is the first school in the city to use the curricula according to Dennis Messenger, the learning aids will be an exciting addition to the new media center.

General chairman for the carnival was Mrs. Gary Havin, and co-chairmen were Mrs. Jay Pace and Mrs. Larry Utley.

According to representatives of the Filer team, team members will wear dresses, hats, wigs and other items of female apparel to play.

Omicron Chapter meets

TWIN FALLS — Omicron Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Wednesday at the home of Sharon Stahlecker.

Founder's Day, which will be April 30 at the Holiday Inn, was discussed. The final degree will be at 7 p.m. and the dinner will be at 8 p.m.

The state convention will be June 29 in Boise at the Rodeway Inn.

Members will be hostesses for a Mother's Day luncheon May 11 at the home of Donald Fox.

Mrs. Jim Call gave a cultural on language. Mrs. George Warberg served refreshments.

Blaine stop-gap road repair set

HAILLEY — About $12 to $14 million may be spent on a stop-gap road repair operation here in the next five years.

Everett Kitchner, assistant district engineer of the Idaho Highway Department, said the department would simply be filling potholes and maintaining the road between Bellevue and Ketchikan this summer.

Currently under discussion is a proposed four-lane highway through the Wood River Valley. Public hearings, decisions, right-of-way purchases and litigation, plus a lack of funds may keep that controversy running for years.

In the interim, Kitchner said, a strictly maintenance program would be followed between Ketchikan and Bellevue. If the funding becomes available, Kitchner said, a third-level layer of asphalt would be laid on the road. Crews are now crushing gravel for the project.

The program is scheduled to run between Bellevue and Bailey in 1975, and between Bailey and Ketchikan in 1976. There is no money currently budgeted, Kitchner said, for the project and, only a priority change would cause the project to begin sooner.

He said the cost figures on the five-year program were only an estimate.

Sun Valley president resigns

SUN VALLEY — Sun Valley Company Inc. President and general manager Alan B. Coleman plans to resign.

It was the second resignation of Sun Valley administrators this month. Ski school director Paul Ramlow was released last week. Dr. Coleman said the Ramlow dismissal had nothing to do with his resignation.

Coleman said he quit because I want to do some other things and because the firm's owner, Bill Janes, "wants to get involved in more of the day-to-day administration of affairs."

"It's a highly complex thing," Coleman said. "Some of it has to do with personal matters, some with business."

Coleman commented that he had been in contact with other business leaders concerning employment before the resignation notice.

No successor has been announced and Coleman said he felt none would be named. He said Bill Janes would be stepping more into the day-by-day administration and might absorb Coleman's title.

"It is not a simple matter," Coleman said. "I suspect we will remain friends."

His resignation is effective about June 30. Coleman has been in his position since January 1973.

William C. Janes, chairman of the board and vice president of the resort, said he accepted Coleman's resignation with deep regret and expressed his appreciation for the several contributions which have been made to the company during the past year under Coleman's direction.

Minidoka fair building eyed

RUPERT — Minidoka County will have a new fairgrounds exhibition building this fall.

The building will be a steel structure, measuring 80 by 50 feet, about 20 feet shorter than had originally been specified, according to county commissioner Lyle Baflon. It will cost about $15,500.

The contract to construct the new building was awarded to Bultel and Weyer. Rupert Bultel said the materials will be delivered in about 10 weeks and construction will require only a few weeks when the materials arrive.

The contract was given to the Rupert builders after the county commissioners received no bid in an earlier bid call.

The salaries for the Minidoka County treasurer, clerk, recorder, assessor and coroner were raised by the commissioners at their meeting Monday. The salaries for all but the coroner were raised to over $10,000, an increase of almost $1,000 per year for two of the county officials.

The coroner's salary was raised $350 to $1,200 per year.
